

FOR THE FIRST DAY

Program of Exercises for the World's Fair Opening.

ALL THE GREAT PLANS FILED

Men, W. C. Beckwith to Deliver the Opening-Prayer in Chicago for Visiting Congressmen.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—The national board of control has approved the program for the dedication of the exposition buildings on October 12, 1902. The program had already passed the directory committee and committee of the national commission, on the order to read. The program is as follows: 1. March by congressmen. Written for the occasion by John H. Ryan. 2. Prayer by Rev. Bishop Brooks, of Michigan.

3. Report of the World's Columbian commission by the director general. 4. Presentation of the buildings for dedication by the president of the World's Columbian Exposition to the president of the World's Columbian commission.

5. Chorus, "The Maces are Talking." 6. Presentation of the buildings for dedication by the president of the World's Columbian commission to the president of the United States. 7. March and chorus from "The Maces of Athena." 8. Dedication of the buildings by the president of the United States.

9. Dedication chorus from "The Maces of Athena." 10. Benediction by Rev. William G. P. Beardsley, of Hammond. 11. Benediction by Rev. John H. Ryan, of Chicago. 12. "Star Spangled Banner" and "America," with full chorus and orchestral accompaniment. 13. National salute.

These exercises will be presided over by the director general of the World's Columbian Exposition, who will also act as master of ceremonies on that occasion.

Pope Leo Preaches Aids. Rome, Feb. 12.—The pope gave a special audience Friday to Mr. Thomas B. Bryan and his son, Col. Charles P. Bryan, the Chicago world's fair commissioners. It was a state ceremony. Mr. Bryan fully and explicitly explained the large scope and immense importance of the projected exposition. He earnestly solicited the pope's adhesion to and active cooperation in the great movement which would bring together the products of all the nations of the world and would prove an incalculable incentive to trade in all directions.

The pope listened very attentively to every word uttered by Mr. Bryan and when the latter had finished his homily said he would be delighted to take part in the exposition and would contribute as far as possible to the success and edification of the undertaking. He assured his hearers that he was moved in the matter by a special love and admiration for the American people.

Do Not Be Cheated. No admission fee will be charged to witness the ceremonies of dedicating the world's fair buildings next October. The committee decided that all the exercises should be free. At 5 o'clock on the afternoon of October 12, 1902, however, the gates will be closed and the grounds cleared. After that hour an admission fee will be charged, as the fireworks displays that are to be given each evening are no part of the dedication exercises.

Ready for the Congressmen. Chicago is all ready to entertain congressmen when it comes next week to see what has been done on the world's fair buildings and grounds. All the transportation arrangements are in the hands of George M. Pullman, who said that the trains upon which the congressmen will be the finest ever seen in Chicago. They will be known as the "Chicago congressional special," and will be composed of the very latest models of Pullman sleepers, dining, observation and buffet-luggage cars. The trains will come over the Baltimore & Ohio and return over the Pennsylvania route. The trains will leave Washington Friday afternoon and will arrive here Saturday afternoon.

Program for Entertainment. Saturday night a reception will be given the visitors by Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer at their magnificent residence corner of Beane street and Lake Shore drive. It will be one of the most notable society events in the history of Chicago.

On Monday the visitors will be left to follow their own inclinations. Those who desire to attend church will be expected to do so, and if any wish to drive about the city or go to the museum across the river the reception committee will not protest, for on that day they too will rest.

Sunday night, however, there will be an event of some interest in the Auditorium hall. This will be the annual observation of Washington's birthday by the Military Order of Washington, a society which has existed in the national capital ever since the days of the first president. It has been its annual custom to conduct a public ceremony on the evening of February 22. Heretofore this service has always been held in Washington, but because of the war—probably a majority of the society are congressmen, it has been suggested that the approaching commemorative exercises be held in Chicago.

On Monday a special train will convey them to St. Louis to Johnson park to inspect the fair buildings. At 1 o'clock they will be given a lunch at the Washington Park club. Monday night they are to be given a banquet at the Commercial club at the Grand Pacific hotel.

Business Legislation. The information has been received that the members of Iowa's legislature will also visit Chicago on February 22 in order to look over the field and determine how much of an appropriation Iowa should make for the fair.
